NICKELS TO DROP IN LIBERTY BELL

Ellen McAdoo Will Hear Her's Jingle at Noon.

Nickels contributed to the Liberty loan at the Liberty Bell Booth tomorrow, set aside as Children's Day, will be dropped into a bell which is an exact replica of the famous bell which tolled off the message of liberty in Philadelphia at the country's birth.

The bell was made for Woodward & Lothrop's Department Store and was lent to the woman's committee of Washington for the occasion.

All contributions will be used to purchase bonds, which will be turned over to the Washington branch of the French war orphan society. Mrs. Hennen Jennings will administer the fund.

Mrs. Philander P. Claxton and her son Phil, will have charge of the booth and will receive the school children of the District at noon. The names of all those who contribute will be registered.

Capt. A. Radcliffe of the King's Own Light Infantry will be the principal speaker at the Liberty Bell Booth on Children's Day.

"A Mile of Nickels" is the slogan of the Woman's Loan Committee of the District for tomorrow, and official permission has been extended by Secretary McAdoo, at the request of the committee until 6 o'clock. The national campaign in all other phases will close at noon tomorrow.

Capt. Dugmore will tell of his personal experience at the front. He was wounded by shell-fire in Flanders and was caught in a gas attack on the Somme.

At noon tomorrow, Ellen McAdoo, the small daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, will drop her nickel into the Liberty bell. As each contribution is made a thermometer will register it.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Children of the American Revolution will be present at the booth during the day assisting in the campaign at various hours.

At noon Dr. William Dieffenfelder will play "America" on the cornet. Captain Dugmore will speak at 2:30 and other speakers will deliver addresses during the day.

SACRIFICE BANQUET FOR LIBERTY LOAN

Marine Draftsmen Decide to Use Money in Buying Bonds.

Patriotic to the core, members of the American Society of Marine Draftsmen, Navy Yard branch, who design the guns for Uncle Sam's navy decided at their regular meeting at the Northeast Masonic Temple last night to forego their annual banquet and invest their money in Liberty bonds.

Reports of delegates just returned from a special convention at New London, Conn., was made by W. E. Rose, W. L. Hubbard gave a lecture on "Shop Experiences and Practices with Tool Steels."

The exercises were preceded by an open-air concert by the band of the Twelfth Field Artillery. The children of the N. W. G. School lead in singing "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" when patriotic slides were exhibited on the screen.

Gen. Charles H. Gurnard, president of the North Washington Citizens' Association, presided, and was assisted by Washington Topham, Hugh Everett, Peter W. Pritchett, Frank R. Wheeler, H. P. Grumbrecht, Charles A. Ford, members of the executive committee of the association. The use of the theater was generously donated by the proprietor, Mr. Louis W. Atkinson.

NEW YORK PARADES FOR LIBERTY LOAN

Thousands Join Big Demonstration. Prominent Citizens in Line.

New York, Oct. 25.—The city gave itself wholeheartedly to a demonstration of its enthusiasm over the Second Liberty Loan which must have made the German Kaiser's ears burn. Thousands of citizens joined in the parade from Washington Square to Central Park. And if every last one of the city's 5,000,000 population did not either parade or watch it, the reason must have been that Fifth avenue refused to hold them. It appeared to bulge with the immense cheering throng.

Inspector Dillon had 1,700 police to maintain order. They weren't needed, save to keep the entire crowd from joining in the parade.

Men of national repute were in the line of march—Rear Admiral Nathaniel R. Usher, who brought 1,500 navy men with him, Gov. Benjamin L. Strong, of the Federal Reserve Bank; Brig. Gen. Eli D. Hays, from Governor's Island; J. P. Morgan, Jacob H. Schiff, Frank A. Vanderlip and many others.

Just before the head of the parade reached the reviewing stand at Twenty-third street, where Mayor Mitchell and other city officials reviewed it, a strange, crawling object rounded the corner and took the city's streets. It was a tank, and it was a thing that doesn't stop even for German barbed wire entanglements. And second, the New York crowd who had never before seen a British battle tank welcomed it like ice in August. Wild cheering greeted the eight business-like-looking British soldiers who manned the tank as it made its way along the city's streets.

At noon tomorrow, Ellen McAdoo, the small daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury, will drop her nickel into the Liberty bell. As each contribution is made a thermometer will register it.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Children of the American Revolution will be present at the booth during the day assisting in the campaign at various hours.

At noon Dr. William Dieffenfelder will play "America" on the cornet. Captain Dugmore will speak at 2:30 and other speakers will deliver addresses during the day.

$30,000 IN BONDS GO AT BELL BOOTH

Mrs. Horace Mann Towner to Preside There Today.

Nearly $30,000 worth of Liberty bonds have been sold at the Liberty Bell booth, across from the Treasury Building. Nearly $7,000 was received in subscriptions yesterday. The booth was opened last Monday by the Washington auxiliary of the women's Liberty loan committee and will continue in operation until the end of the loan campaign. The booth yesterday was presided over by Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, and addresses were made by Dr. Charles Wood, of the Bureau of the Covenant; Rabbi Simon and Dr. Tertius Van Dyke, son of the former Minister here from the Netherlands.

Today Mrs. Horace Mann Towner will preside at the booth. Mr. Towner is president of the Congressional Club. Prof. Charles S. Richardson and Miss Janet Richards are expected to deliver addresses during the day from the booth.

Large and small bonds have been sold at the booth. A peanut vender, who stands regularly across the street from the booth, grasping tightly the pen, he carefully filled out the blank, buying a $50 bond.

Mounting the steps, he told in broken English that he wanted to buy one Liberty bond. Grasping tightly the pen, he carefully filled out the blank, buying a $50 bond.

McCarthy says that physical reasons bar him from the army.

Three Men Buy Twenty-nine Bonds

F. H. Kramer, the florist; Officer Sampson, of the police department, and G. E. Smithson purchased twenty-nine liberty bonds from the committee of Commercial Club members who are securing the business section of Washington offering bonuses to purchasers of bonds. From left to right is Officer Sampson, five bonds; F. H. Kramer, twenty-one, and G. E. Smithson, three liberty bonds. The three are decorated with bond buttons.

Commercial Club Offers $1 Bonus to Bond Buyers

Cy. Cummings and Crowd of Boosters Sell Thousands of Dollars Worth of Second Liberty Loan Certificates.

A picturesque whirlwind campaign for the Second Liberty Loan is being conducted by a committee of members of the Commercial Club. All over the business section of Washington this committee scours for subscribers in two auto trucks, and bulging with both hands of members are piles of $1 bills.

A large truck leads the procession, followed by a smaller one containing chairs and tables, where members of the committee receive subscriptions. Liberty Loan posters cover the two trucks.

"A dollar for everyone who buys a $50 bond," the voice of Cy Cummings calls out to the crowd, gathered at each stopping place by the unusual sight and the singing and piano playing of George O'Connor and Matt Horne. "Come up and get one now." Cy demands of the crowd.

Dollar for Each Bond.

"It's your Uncle Sam you're helping, boys. Come up and buy a bond. There's a dollar help for every $50 bond bought and more where that came from." A dozen hands wave aloft filled with piles of dollar bills.

"You help yourself and Uncle Sam at the same time, men, when you buy a bond."

"I want a bond," a voice called out. "Here's a man going to buy a bond. Open up and let him through."

"Here's another."

"All right, men," Cummings continued. "We need to sell those bonds."

MAY USE WAR BONDS AS TAX SECURITIES

Secretary McAdoo Explains Advantages for Loan Buyers.

An important decision of Secretary McAdoo makes it possible for Liberty bonds of the United States to be deposited as security for the payment of floor taxes due, in lieu of surety bonds.

By using Liberty bonds, those who owe floor taxes will both make and save money.

The war revenue act of October 3, 1917, provides for a floor tax upon articles of commodities, such as distilled spirits, cigars, tobacco, etc., held by persons, corporations, partnerships or associations. The law stipulates that returns shall be made and the taxes paid not later than November 4, 1917, "except that the payment of the tax may be extended to a date not exceeding seven months from the passage of this act upon the filing of a bond for payment in such form and amount and with such securities as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe."

A week ago, October 7, Secretary McAdoo informed collectors of internal revenue that they could accept in lieu of surety bonds as security for the payment of floor taxes, covered by Section 102 of the act approved October 3, 1917, Liberty bonds of the United States at face value equal to the actual amount of taxes due. A decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue requires a surety bond equivalent to twice the amount of the taxes due. In other words, a Liberty loan bond for $50,000 will cover a tax bill of $25,000, whereas it would require a surety bond of $100,000 to cover the same tax.

Ambassador Requests Recall.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 25.—Strong rumors were in circulation here tonight that Ambassador Naon, at Washington, has requested his recall on account of ill health. Official confirmation or denial is lacking.

The pantograph principle has been applied to the oxygen-acetylene flame apparatus for cutting metal to permit the work to be done accurately at a distance from a desired pattern.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS RALLY FOR BIG LOAN

Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Twenty thousand employees of the General Electric Company have subscribed for $1,448,750 worth of Liberty bonds in the campaign ended today with one of the largest demonstrations the city ever saw. The company's employees purchased over a million dollars worth of the first issue of Liberty bonds. They were asked to subscribe for an equal amount in this second loan and responded by oversubscribing nearly half a million.

Following the announcement of the figures the employees marched through the plant and later through the streets of the city for three hours, completely tying up all traffic in a great merry-making parade, featured with brass bands, costumed brigades, effigies, banners and flags. It was the greatest patriotic demonstration Schenectady ever saw.
